About Us

At Son Et Lumiere, we bring science to life — literally. As a mobile science exhibit provider, we travel directly to schools, communities, and special events to deliver interactive, hands-on science experiences designed to ignite curiosity and inspire learning.

Our exhibits are built around core STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) principles and are crafted to be engaging, educational, and entertaining for all age groups.

Mission Statement

To make science accessible, exciting, and inspiring for everyone — regardless of geography or background — by delivering mobile, interactive science exhibits that spark curiosity and foster innovation.

Products & Services

A fully transportable exhibit that brings three unique science-themed activities in one event directly to schools. These immersive experiences are designed to spark curiosity, encourage experimentation, and foster a lifelong love for Science and Technology.

SON ET LUMIERRE
A MOBILE EXHIBIT

Vision Statement

To ignite wonder and expand access to science by bringing immersive sound-and-light experiences to communities everywhere – transforming public spaces into arenas of discovery, where curiosity is celebrated, creativity is sparked, and every mind is empowered to see the world through the lens of science and art.

Core Values

- Curiosity First – We believe that curiosity is the starting point of all discovery. Our exhibits awaken the natural desire to ask, explore and understand the world.
- Accessibility & Inclusion – Science belongs to everyone. We prioritize reaching underserved and underrepresented communities with barrier-free, inclusive experience.
- Creativity through STEM – By integrating science with sound, light and arts, we inspire learners to think across disciplines and imagine boldly.
- Community Connection – We bring science to where people learn and gather – transforming familiar spaces into hubs of shared exploration.
- Experiential Impact – Learning through doing, feeling and engaging leaves lasting impressions. Our Exhibits are hands-on, multisensory and unforgettable.
- Sustainability & Mobility – As a mobile platform, we are committed to sustainability and maximizing reach with minimal environment impact.
- Joyful Learning – We believe science should be fun, emotional and awe-inspiring. Every exhibit is crafted to bring joy and wonder to learning.

How our 3-Room Science Mobile Exhibit Works

Our 3-room science mobile exhibit is a unique, interactive learning experience designed to bring science directly to students in a fun, hands-on way. Each room is focused on a different theme, creating a complete educational journey across sound, light and social-emotional learning (SEL). Students rotate through all three rooms in groups, guided by our trained science educators.

ROOM 1 – SOUND ROOM – The Science of Music and Hearing

In this room, students explore the fascinating science behind sound and music. They'll learn how sound travels, how the human ear works, and what makes different sounds unique. Our trained lecturers lead interactive demonstrations and hands-on activities where students can experiment with musical instruments, vibrations and sound waves – making science not just heard, but felt and understood.

ROOM 2 – LIGHT ROOM – How we see the world

Here, students dive into the science of light. They'll discover how light travels, how colors are formed, and how the human eye perceives the world around us. Through engaging experiments and visual activities, students learn how light interacts with objects, how shadows and reflections work, and the basic of optics – all while connecting it to everyday experiences.

ROOM 3 – SEL ROOM – Science Meets Emotion

In our final room, students take a break from hands-on experiments to enjoy 3D clips and a short film designed to support Social-Emotional Learning (SEL). This immersive media experience helps students reflect, connect emotionally, and understand how science influences not just our world, but also how we think, feel and relate to one another.
